

Backend developer

Description:

Oradian is a fast-growing, award-winning global technology start-up developing software solutions that enable financial inclusion. As backend developer, you will be responsible for the meat & beans of our core banking system – written in 100% Scala, our beloved FP & OO chimera.

We are looking for individuals who thrive on finding innovative solutions to the toughest challenges, love to get their hands dirty, and never stop learning. Oradian's is a fast-paced working environment in which everyone plays a role in communicating and contributing to our goal of economic empowerment and access to financial services. We love what we do and a positive attitude and passion for our mission are essentials for our team!

Responsibilities:

- Discussing technical & design challenges; providing innovative new ideas and solutions.
- Doing the actual work :) – programming in Scala in interaction with the ORDBMS
- Working with team members on a quality codebase we can be proud of

Qualifications:

- Excellent programming skills in Scala/Java or equivalent (you name it)
- In-depth knowledge of common JVM libraries & frameworks
- Best practices of working with transactional systems
- Being SOLID & DRY
- Experience working with DVCS

Pluses:

- Experience with PostgreSQL as it's our ORDBMS of choice
- Familiarity with Domain-Driven Design
- Experience with the very Simple Build Tool :D

Type of contract:

Full time

Location:

Zagreb, Croatia

About Oradian:

Oradian is a global technology provider that is promoting economic empowerment and technology in Africa and other emerging markets. Our innovative cloud-based systems help financial institutions serving the base of the pyramid to improve their performance radically, to reduce their costs dramatically, and to scale their services quickly and efficiently. We service our customers with the highest standards and expect only the best.

Our headquarters are based in the heart of Zagreb, Croatia, while our customers are in emerging markets all around the globe. English is the lingua franca, while your colleagues are from Croatia, Portugal, South Africa, Nigeria, Germany, Philippines, France and a growing number of other countries.

Email us at be@oradian.com