

Instafin covers each step of your loan workflow

All-in-one core banking platform for each step of your loan origination process

Digitalisation and enhanced productivity are the keys to unlocking business opportunities. Instafin, Oradian's cloud-based core banking platform offers your financial institution a comprehensive, all-in-one solution that enables your financial institution to digitalise and streamline all your loan workflow steps from customer acquisition to disbursement.

End-to-end, fully digitalised loan origination process

With Instafin – Oradian's core banking platform, all major processes are digitised including but not limited to creating new clients, application, evaluation, approval, release, collection, reporting (in real-time), accounting, and business intelligence.

All-in-one core banking platform for each step of your loan workflow

With a fully automated loan workflow your financial institution:

- Maximises efficiency and profitability through streamlined processes across all divisions and branches where all teams can access the banking system from their own offices.
- Boosts your team's performance through digitalised loan workflow and reduced time spent on manual processes.
- Mitigates risks of internal and external fraud through enhanced security features.
- Enhances your clients' experience through reduced decision-making time and faster response to clients' needs.
- Reduces operational costs.
- Serves more clients and accelerates growth.

Digitalised processes bring about business benefits at each stage of the loan workflow so that you seamlessly process more loans and serve more clients faster and more efficiently - while cutting costs and increasing revenues.
